Overview

- The development of the Gratitude++ application has closely followed initial design documentation

Some deviations were necessary

For function

As technology stacks were incorporated

As needed to ensure timely deployment

This presentation will explore some of that process and conclude with overall project outlook

Conclusion

- While the project up to this point has been both educational as well as challenging...
- the overall outlook for successful completion of the Gratitude++ Journal Application ahead of the release deadline...
